

Steve

Group Worker/Counsellor

with the Kenward Trust.

Steve supports drug addicts through group work and one to one discussion.

What do I enjoy about my job?

“Seeing people find freedom from the horror of being an addict makes what I do as a career something very special.”

Have you thought about a career in healthcare or care?

There are hundreds of interesting careers in healthcare & care.

Steve works with Kenward Trust and loves his job working with people who need his help.

Look at our careers website and you might find a career that is just right for you.

www.nhscareers.nhs.uk or www.kdaat.org.uk/workforce

Steve's Profile

- After successfully completing his own treatment Steve undertook a volunteering role which developed into full time employment. He achieved his degree via an access course, trained in group work and became a group worker.
- There is no such thing as a typical day – it is based upon expecting the unexpected. It might involve helping address debt, housing, benefits or drug testing.
- Steve gets lots of opportunities for further training and would eventually like to manage a rehabilitation centre.